

Academic Program Manager - Adelaide

An exciting new opportunity to join a global education company in a new venture.

Kaplan Inc. is an international education company and a subsidiary of The Washington Post newspaper, with more than $2bn in revenue from education interests in the US, UK, Asia and Australia (see www.kaplan.com . Kaplan has acquired several of Australia's leading educational providers in the last few years and has recently established Kaplan Business School Australia (KBS).

Kaplan Business School will appoint a suitably qualified and experienced Program Manager for its higher education business program in Adelaide. The Program Manager will be responsible for implementing new courses and managing the day-to-day operations of the current academic programs in South Australia.

The Program Manager occupies a central management role within the School as he/she is responsible for the quality and delivery of the Masters programs, which the School provides to its students.

The Program Manager must have educational management experience at a higher education level and a post graduate (Masters) degree qualification (greater than an MPA or conversion course level). Other preferred qualifications include minimum work experience of three years in a relevant area, full membership of the CPA or ICAA, some teaching experience in the university sector and a management qualification in a related discipline.

This is a permanent position in a dynamic, growing organisation within an expanding industry sector. An attractive remuneration package will be negotiated with the successful candidate. Further information and a position description is available on the company website at www.kbs.edu.au.
